

Sections

Military

News Pay & Benefits Flashpoints

Pentagon & Congress

Three troops die on the same day as military COVID-19 deaths continue to spike

By Meghann Myers

Oct 8, 2021

About 73 percent of troops are at least partially vaccinated against COVID-19. (Maj. Charles An/Army Reserve)

Three troops died of COVID-19 on Oct. 3, bringing the total number to 62 as of Wednesday, according to the

Featured Video

Scanning for fraudulent chips and a Russian chopper deal falls through | Defense Dollars

How much can I contribute to my IRA? — Money Minute

Best of Modern Day Marine | Defense News Weekly Full Episode, 5.16.22

Roundup: Modern Day Marine 2022

latest Defense Department update.

COVID-19 deaths among troops have been surging since late July, after zero deaths in June, and generally one or two a month going all the way back to March 2020. Then 14 troops died in August, followed by another 14 in September.

None of the service members who have died were fully vaccinated against COVID-19, according to Pentagon spokesman Maj. Charlie Dietz, though one had received the first of a two-dose series.

The most recently reported deaths include:

- An Army National Guard first lieutenant, 34, died Sept. 17. He was assigned to Headquarters Company, 36th Infantry Division in Austin, Texas. The Texas Military Department declined to release the soldier's name.

- Aviation Electrician's Mate 1st Class Cory Weber, 51, died Oct. 3. He was assigned to Naval Aviation Warfighting Development Center at Naval Air Station Fallon, Nevada.
- Chief Warrant Officer 4 Uriah J. Hayes, 43, died Oct. 3. He was an instructor with 1st Battalion, 3rd Aviation Regiment, 1st Aviation Brigade at Fort Rucker, Alabama.
- Air National Guard Master Sgt. Jake Trevino, 41, died Oct. 3. He was assigned to the 502nd Security Forces Group at Joint Base San Antonio, Texas.

Ad

The latest deaths bump the military's mortality rate up to just under 0.03 percent, roughly 50 times what it was for most of 2020 and into 2021, as late summer brought unprecedented spikes in infections in pockets of the country.

Ad

The surge in deaths coincided with the Pentagon's decision to mandate vaccination, using the Food and Drug Administration-approved Pfizer/Comirnaty product.

RELATED

With Pfizer approval, COVID-19 vaccine to become mandatory for troops

The Pfizer vaccine will be the first to become requiring for service members.

By Meghann Myers

Just over under 60 percent of the force was at least partially vaccinated when Defense Secretary Lloyd Austin made the announcement in late August. Since then roughly 1-to-2 percent of the force has been getting vaccinated weekly, roughly on par with progress made throughout the late spring and summer. That number is now up to 73 percent.

Each of the services has set their own deadlines for compliance. The Air Force Department's comes first, with Nov. 2 for active-duty airman and Dec. 2 for reservists. The Navy and Marine Corps are due by Nov. 28 for active-duty and Dec. 28 for their reservists.

The Army settled on Dec. 15 for their active-duty members, but chose to give over half a million Reserve

Trending Now

Commander of Helicopter Sea Combat Squadron 28 ousted due to 'loss of confidence'

Putin complains about barrage of cyberattacks

UFOs pose real danger, says Pentagon, but aliens aren't to blame — probably and National Guard forces – roughly 20 percent of the entire military – until June 30.

Reserve component soldiers have been the majority of COVID-19 deaths throughout the pandemic, but particularly in this most recent surge. Of 31 deaths since August, 14 were among Army reservists. Over the course of the entire pandemic, 21 out of 62 deaths have been among Army reservists.

Ronald Reagan Carrier Strike Group deploys from Yokosuka

Blue Star Museums again offering free admission to troops, families all summer

About Meghann Myers

Meghann Myers is the Pentagon bureau chief at Military Times. She covers operations, policy, personnel, leadership and other issues affecting service members. Follow on Twitter @Meghann_MT

Share:

More In Pentagon & Congress >

More nations expected to sign up for Pentagon's Ukraine aid group

A group of international defense chiefs convened by U.S. Defense Secretary...

Military commands spent pandemic money on space analytics. IT

On space strategy, new, ... upgrades

The U.S. military commands responsible for North America misused at least...

Pentagon tech chief wants an 'all in one' sensor

It is one of several critical technologies that Heidi
Shyu, the undersecretary ...

Ukraine getting battalion's worth of artillery in new $100 million aid package

The U.S. is sending Ukraine another $100 million in military assistance,...

Watchdog could subpoena former VA workers under plan approved by Congress

Currently the VA inspector general cannot force former employees to detail...

Ad

In Other News >

Lawmakers urge DoD to take action to curb rising commissary prices

Stop requiring commissaries to make a profit, lawmakers say.

Ronald Reagan Carrier Strike Group deploys from Yokosuka

During its last deployment, which concluded in October, the Reagan not...

IPPS-A rollout still on track after initial delay, Army says

The Army says its new master human resources platform is on track for full...

Blue Star Museums again offering free admission to troops, families all summer Participating museums are offering free admission to military families from May...

Wildfire monitoring, other state missions in jeopardy without a Space Guard, these officials say

Space Force officials want to move away from the traditional Guard and...

Load More

Military Times © 2022

Terms of Use

Privacy Policy

Terms of Service

Get Us

Subscribe

RSS Feeds

Contact Us

Advertise

General Contacts, Subscription Services

Editorial Staff

About Us

About Us

Careers

Jobs for Veterans

Military