500,000 Germans Severely Injured by COVID-19 Vaccines, Survey by Top Hospital Shows

Researchers at Charité Berlin, Germany's top hospital and one of Europe's largest, announced a high rate of COVID-19 vaccine severe side effects lasting months or longer based on a survey of about 40,000 Germans.

Miss a day, miss a lot. Subscribe to The Defender's Top News of the Day. It's free.

Researchers at Charité Berlin, Germany's top hospital and one of Europe's largest, announced a high rate of COVID-19 vaccine severe side effects lasting months or longer based on a survey of about 40,000 Germans.

Some highlights:

1. Researchers estimate eight serious side effects per 1,000 vaccinated people, compared to 0.2 estimated by the Paul Ehrlich Institute (PEI), Germany's vaccine watchdog.
2. This equates to an underreporting factor (URF) of 40x, which is almost exactly the same as the Vaccine Adverse Event Reporting System (VAERS) URF estimated by Steve Kirsch.
3. The study's lead researcher, Dr. Harald Matthes, estimated half a million Germans experienced serious side effects following vaccination. Survey findings indicate up to 80% of people with severe reactions recover within three to six months, but for 20% the symptoms persist.

This equates to 100,000 Germans currently suffering from long-term serious side effects. That means 0.16% of people vaccinated are still suffering serious side effects more than six months following vaccination.

4. This is a major embarrassment for the PEI, which has maintained all along that it is doing a thorough tracking of vaccine adverse events and denounced as "anti-vaxxers" anyone who questioned the official numbers.

5. Matthes called on the government to take people claiming vaccine injury seriously and to provide dedicated outpatient care to the vaccine-injured.

He noted most have been unable to find help in the current medical climate, which both strongly discourages talking about vaccine injury and is basically clueless about how to help the vaccine-injured.

Matthes also called for allowing doctors to discuss vaccine injury openly so that they can develop treatments without fear of being denounced as “anti-vaxxers.”

6. Matthes noted a strong similarity between many of the symptoms of so-called “long COVID” and vaccine injury and believes treatments for long COVID may be helpful in addressing vaccine injury.

For more on this, see my presentation at PANDA's open science meeting on a unified theory of susceptibility to COVID and injuries from COVID-19 vaccines.

1 Million Copies Sold — ‘The Real Anthony Fauci’ — The book that launched a movement. BUY TODAY!

7. Germany set up outpatient clinics devoted to long COVID, and the vaccine-injured can turn to them for help. But there's a problem: too many injuries.

From this article:

“The special outpatient clinic at the University Hospital in Marburg is a prominent example of this. The employees actually wanted to do research on Long Covid, but now they mainly care for patients with severe vaccination side effects.

“Between 200 and 400 e-mails from those affected are now received daily in the Marburg special outpatient clinic, and the waiting list includes around 800 patients.

“The problem here, however, is that demand far outstrips supply. ‘We need more outpatient clinics, they are far from enough,’ emphasizes Matthes in the MDR report. [Note that outpatient treatment in German is machine-translated into ‘ambulances’ in English.]”

8. This story is huge. It is akin to researchers at Harvard Medical School coming forward and announcing the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) was undercounting the serious adverse event rate by a factor of 40, that vaccine injury is real, the vaccine-injured need to be taken seriously and treated, and that doctors need to be able to voice their opinions openly without fear of retribution so treatments for the vaccine-injured can be developed.

9. In this interview, Matthes is asked about Andreas Schöfbeck, the insurance company executive who was fired after raising concerns about vaccine injury based on claims data:

“He should have said there is a clue here, but causality has yet to be verified. It wasn't entirely clear if he was speaking politically, or if he was just doing his due diligence and saying: Here's a signal that needs to be investigated further, please. That little differentiation cost him his job.

“But if you then look at how black and white is currently being painted in public and with what vehemence certain opinions are exchanged without there being any facts — then you realize how unfairly he was punished for something that maybe was not quite carefully worded.”

You can tell Matthes is being very cautious in his choice of words, but one can hardly justify Schöfbeck's firing on the grounds that he was not guarded enough in his statements. (I'd bet dollars to donuts he would have been fired even if his statement was more carefully worded.)

10. Curiously, Matthes says the eight per 1,000 serious event rate “corresponds to what is known from other countries such as Sweden, Israel or Canada. Incidentally, even the manufacturers of the vaccines had already determined similar values in their studies.”

It's Time to Follow the Science. Join our Campaign!

Is this true? My experience from Israel says it's not. Perhaps there is some wiggle room, as according to this article, the study defines “serious events” as “symptoms that require medical treatment and last for several weeks or months.”

As far as I know, no study or data out of Israel has tracked serious events by that definition. If anybody knows what data he is comparing to, in Israel or elsewhere, please let us know in the comments.

11. Of course there are a lot of possible biases in the survey methodology. Unfortunately, I was not able to find any details on the methodology of the survey, so a more complete discussion of that will have to wait for another time.

One thing for sure: People who died from the vaccine can't answer a survey, so the research has nothing to say on this issue.

Here are links to some of the articles I found on this story in the mainstream German press: 1, 2, 3, 4. Machine translation is more than serviceable.

And here is a video (again in German) from a mainstream German broadcaster on vaccine injuries, including an interview with Matthes. No translation is possible.

I think at least like 5 million innocent people have been murdered by the inoculations between the USA and Europe since December 2020. Meanwhile Biden's Department of Justice feels like harassing and intimidating parents at school board meetings instead of classifying Pfizer and Moderna and Astra Zeneca as terrorist organizations.

My 32-year-old son developed a blood clot in his left calf seven days after taking the Pfizer shot in August 2021. In December 2021 he was positive for Covid. His girlfriend, who is unvaccinated, got Covid at the same time. They both had the same symptoms of mild severity for the same 6 days. Now they both have natural immunity but my son Will be dealing with a blood clot for the rest of his life. His 28 year old unvaxed brother contracted Covid in June 2020 and had sniffles for five days. He has not contracted Covid again even after being around his brother and his brother's girlfriend. He says there is no way in hell he is going to get the shot. His 30 yr old friend and the friend's gf got double vaxxed in Oct 2021 in order to go to London over Christmas/New Years for their honeymoon. Both caught covid in England over New Years.

I did not get a shot and was around someone who had Covid in Dec 2019 ... he didn't know what it was and I thought he almost died. His lungs were on fire, cough, and all bad symptoms. I was with him daily and I didn't get sick at all. But he got it again in late mid 2021 but mild. My mother-in-law, my father-in-law, and my partner all got Covid, the father-in-law went to a hospital when oxygen level went to 92, he never left .. they put him on ventilator and died. He didn't have a jab. M-in-law and my partner did not get a jab. They both got C again 6 months later but mild. I did not get any even though I was around them all the time. My brothers and mom got 3 jabs, 1 brother got 4. All got C after the jab then again 8 months later before the 3rd shot. One brother got numbness on his left side then right side after 2nd and 3rd. He still has it so he refused to take the 4th and asked mom not to get the 4th. He also has blood clot issue now. The other brother developed the same blood clot issue (blood gets so thick). The doctor upped his medication 4 times now and refuses to do it again. So, nobody can tell me the vaccine is safe.

They called the common cold of 2020 covid19 then came out with a plot to get tons of cash and destroy the economy country by country. How else would they have gotten away with all the BS they are handing out now if they didn't have half the globe thinking there was a deadly pathogen circulating?

If life was as we knew it before covid19 it would be more difficult for them to get away with what they are doing to our country. There is no rhyme or reason, just don't care about it and let it rot. Not my thinking, btw but what I would guess is "theirs".

The question in my mind will always be how many placebos are there? howbad.info seems to suggest a lot.

Are they sending more lethal doses to one Country over another? Howbad.info says yes. Is is natural to take a lethal vaccine lot, and spread them widely around the world? They've been doing this with vaccines for decades.

How many different substances are being used among all the vaccine batches? Batch lot codes indicate substances are being used with different dosing. What are they? Don't we have a right to know what's in these medical countermeasures? How can you give informed consent if you don't know what you're getting?

CastleConnell → Sentinel • 6 days ago

We have rights in theory, in the real world it doesn't play out. If you do not comply you will not be allowed to participate in many aspects of society, in the areas that count, such as work or education. We don't have informed consent, the ingredients are not listed on the experimental synthetic mRNA jab boxes. And, again if we refuse the experiment, there are often harsh punishments meted out, pejorative labels, and basic freedom restrictions. This control is unprecedented at a global level at least. I am surrounded by radical left ideologues, some are now getting cancer, or suffering adverse effects, some are blaming 'long-covid', none are admitting the truth regarding the dangers of the shots. Really, it is their loss due to aligning their understanding of what is healthy with the Phelonious Pharma Agenda!

We only have "rights in theory" if we don't claim the rights that we have. As many of us learned during the last year, if you didn't comply with taking part in the continuing injection trials, you could temporarily lose "the areas that count" and might need to tolerate "pejorative labels" but that is much better than losing the most important area that counts which is health. Without that area, all the other areas lose meaning. It is worth losing everything, temporarily or even permanently in order to try to keep our well-being and autonomy over our own body.

Without free speech, all the other "rights" lose meaning. Slaves do not have ANY rights. We as Americans have inalienable rights to "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness". Those rights are inalienable and not given to us by government. They are protected by government, that is, a legitimate government which is not what we are currently experiencing.

It is our duty to disobey illegitimate rules, mandates or even laws. If enough people had done that from the beginning of this disaster, it would have been over very quickly. We cannot be afraid of our government. It needs to fear us.

You pose good questions but I think you would need to ask each individual who consented to taking these experimental injections what they were thinking when they consented to taking these experimental injections, what they were thinking when they welcomed or submitted to them. Except for those rare instances when a figurative or literal gun was held to someone's head, each individual said O.K. to being an experimental subject.

An experiment means that those conducting the experiment can include what they want into their proprietary formula without disclosing the ingredients. After all, for those who asked to see an insert, they would have been shown a blank sheet of paper.

Did anyone ask the manufacturers if each dose of their product was the same, as is supposed to be the case with standard approved pharmaceuticals? If the manufacturers said yes and it can be proved that this is not the case, then the manufacturers should be prosecuted for fraud.

Pat Flynn • 5 days ago

In Ireland, 'long Covid' first came into focus on mainstream media after the initial lockdown and at a time when fear of Covid was subsiding (during the year and a quarter leading up to the introduction of the vaccine, any diminution of fear was countered by the introduction of some freshly concocted concern, including, if I remember correctly, the threat of brain damage). Does Long Covid exist? Yes. As does 'Long Flu' and long any other virus you choose to think of. Long term effects from any virus is a consequence of a weakened immune system; no more and no less. How do I know this? Inherent effects of a virus effect everyone - in the case of Covid those would be headaches, nausea, and loss of energy. If those symptoms, and other unusual symptoms along with them, persist for a long period, that can only reflect a viral impact on a weakened immune system, because the recovery of the vast majority, generally in about a week, proves that a functioning immune system will defeat this virus.

Side effects of the vaccines on the other hand are inexcusable, in that their emergency use authorisation was given primarily to accomodate the immune compromised; and also, I've just remembered, to stop the spread of the disease. A fact that, for elephant in the room type of reasons, it's easy to forget.

Pithy comment that says a lot about the data analysis:

"One thing for sure: People who died from the vaccine can't answer a survey, so the research has nothing to say on this issue."

Death is obviously the most severe consequence, and one that is totally missing from consideration in this vax-injury survey.

There are never going to be answers as long as censorship exists. When science is censored, ignorance and destruction become the new regime.

Likewise, when every politician cancels: his nation's Constitution, the Nuremberg Code, and the Declaration of Human Rights, they have declared their terminal hostility to humanity and in any sane environment, should be eliminated from society while society still exists to regulate criminality.

Its with a profound sense of sadness, I lost my Triple vaxx'd older Brother<69 to Covid Pneumonia/with hidden hypoxia. We both got covid just days apart. Me<65 Jan 24 2020 Unvaxx'd, and wife<70 unvaxx'd, me living in BC Canada. We both started an early treatment plan day 1, 7-9 days later we were both fine. My Bro had just bought a condo in Mexico where he was residing for 2 1/2 months. He tested + Jan 23 2020,I told him to do my early treatment plan. he did not, thinking his job had him covered. The evening of Jan28, he dropped to the floor and was taken by ambulance to hospital. he declined rapidly until Feb 1st when they had to put him in an induced coma and fully vent him to protect his brain from lack of O2. He died Feb 23 from a secondary fungal infection, most likely from the vent? Sadly I found in the court ordered Pfizer data about there own jabs, They knew there Jabs can cause this Number of relevant events: 137, of which 126 serious, 11non-serious;

- Reported relevant PTs: Respiratory failure (44), Hypoxia (42), Respiratory disorder (36), Acute respiratory distress syndrome (10), Chronic respiratory syndrome (3), Severe acute respiratory syndrome (2). This data was for about the first 80 days of there jabs. Think what the numbers are now some 14 months later? And yes I think mv bro's Vac killed him!

it makes sense that most doctors would reject the idea of vaccine injuries, because like the article says, they would have no idea HOW to treat them(novel technology), and by admitting that vaccines are injuring a bunch of people, would make them in the wrong for supporting vaccines for everyone in the first place by claiming they were 'safe and effective' while actually hurting people.

I've heard others say this as well. Can you explain your assertion scientifically - that SARS Cov 2 or COVID 19 doesn't exist? I've had viruses off and on my whole life - chicken pox, measles, rubella, mono (Epstein Barr), colds, flu and COVID 7/2020. It was real - very weird - and took some time to recover from. I supported my immune system in a number of ways to facilitate recovery. Just wondering what the argument is that it doesn't exist. You seem pretty confident. There was some anxiety I had to beat back since it hit my lungs with pain in less than 24 hrs of onset of symptoms and nothing had ever hit my lungs, but fundamentally I wasn't afraid, because I'm not afraid to die. Faced that as a young child. Saved and brought back to life repeatedly when I cried out to God to save me. Brutally abused. Saved by Jesus who suffered the abuse for me. Gave me life that cannot be taken away.

personally believe COVID-19 definitely does exist, but that it was first genetically modified from a stolen vial sample in a lab (probably in China- with cooperation from others) to tweak it so that it could "pack more punch" than an ordinary cold/flu/virus that it originally was. Then it was dispersed in strategic areas to pass it around globally. This was all to facilitate part of the "build back better, great reset" agenda.
